CPD : LEGAL LEARNING LAB

The Intermediate-Level Legal Forums aim to provide legal practitioners with specialised legal training level, and are an extension of the CPD Camps that provide training at a basic level.

The forums will require participants to have prior knowledge in specific areas of law, and participants will be expected to engage with the trainer(s) in these interactive and practical sessions.

Land Law | Removal of Private Caveat: Negotiate, Mediate or Litigate?

This interactive course aims to guide practitioners on the details of three approaches to handling property disputes:

- (1) Negotiate before you litigate: Help parties resolve land disputes, where the nature of the case permits;
- (2) Settle land disputes through mediation, where this is a more suitable course of action; and
- (3) Litigate: When the only recourse is to commence legal proceedings.

Participants will learn key points on how to handle conveyancing issues in a manner that avoids litigation, and will benefit from the discussion of the National Land Code 1965, for cases where litigation is inevitable.

The focus is to raise awareness about the details of handling property disputes, which will serve as a guide to legal practitioners in this field. Participants are encouraged to use this as an opportunity to consult with the trainer about specific situations they have come across.

Procedure for Civil Appeal

This course will include discussions on the circumstances that warrant the intervention of the appellate court, with reference to relevant precedents. Participants will also be guided on drafting memorandums of appeal, and will draft a submission based on the facts presented in a case study.

Eligibility: Participants must be legal practitioners with experience in the areas of land law or of civil appeal (as applicable) as the objective of these forums is to fine-tune the level of knowledge, and application of the relevant law. Newcomers to these areas of law are encouraged to attend relevant CPD Camps prior to joining these forums.
